Mirimichi Green Express

"Committed to Service Beyond Expectations"

COLFAX, North Carolina --- March 20, 2014 --- Green Resource becomes an exclusive distributor for Mirimichi Green Express (MGX) throughout the Carolinas. Todd McPeak, one of the principals of Green Resource, says, "We constantly have requests for organic, environmentally friendly soil amendments; the granular Mirimichi Green PRO products surpassed our performance expectations." They are derived from a premium blend of organics and U.S.D.A. Certified Biobased Carbon designed to promote a healthy stand of vegetation.

Mirimichi Green

Mirimichi Green began in 2011 from the desire of Justin Timberlake and his family to share with the public the environmental lessons learned during rehabilitation of Mirimichi Golf Course (Millington, TN). The Mirimichi Green team of world class, environmental scientists conduct extensive research and development to formulate sustainable products for professional and consumer use.

Mirimichi Green Express (MGX)

In 2013, Mirimichi Green Express was formed to handle the manufacturing of soil products, as well as, the sales and distribution of Mirimichi Green PRO products. MGX is headquartered outside Wilmington, NC, where it oversees the MG PRO Program for landscape professionals, developers, educational institutions, golf courses, government agencies, parks and recreation departments, and corporations.

Mirimichi is a Native American word meaning "place of happy retreat."
