NCSU TURFGRASS FIELD DAY

The Turfgrass Field Day at the Lake Wheeler Lab is held once a year, offering the industry and general public a chance to view the NC State University Turfgrass Program's ongoing research trials and speak directly with NC State's faculty and staff. The broad range of topics includes Integrated Pest Management, cultural practices, irrigation technologies, aquatic weed management, weed control, and more.

Join us early for coffee and doughnuts. Then after the talks, enjoy a catered lunch complete with NC State Howling Cow ice cream! And since you're going to get thirsty, water and soft drinks will be readily available throughout the day.
